Kelp is a 16-year-old girl who lives in a small town on the coast of Maine. Her family is a bit, well, dysfunctional. Her parents are divorced, her brother is a stoner, and her sister is a drama queen. But Kelp is the glue that holds her family together. She's always there for her family, even when they're driving her crazy.

One day, Kelp discovers that the seaweed in her town has gone nuts. It's growing out of control, and it's starting to take over the town. Kelp and her friends decide to investigate, and they soon discover that the seaweed is being controlled by an evil scientist. The scientist is planning to use the seaweed to take over the world, and it's up to Kelp and her friends to stop him.

Kelp is a hilarious and heartwarming story about the importance of family, friendship, and finding your own voice. It's a story that will resonate with teens and adults alike.
