Whether your family enjoys hiking through pristine wilderness, splashing in crystal-clear waters, or exploring fascinating museums, the Smokies cater to every interest and age group. As a parent, it can be overwhelming to navigate the plethora of options available. That's where our comprehensive guidebook, "Things To Do In The Smokies With Kids," comes in.

This invaluable resource provides an insider's perspective on the best places to visit, things to do, and tips to make your family vacation a truly unforgettable experience. From easy hiking trails suitable for young adventurers to thrilling zip-lining adventures that will get everyone's adrenaline pumping, our guidebook covers it all.

Embark on Enchanting Hikes

The Smokies offer a vast network of hiking trails, ranging from gentle strolls to challenging treks. For families with young children, we recommend the following trails:

- Grotto Falls Trail: This short and easy 2.6-mile round-trip trail leads to a stunning 25-foot waterfall. The trail is mostly paved, making it accessible for strollers.
- Rainbow Falls Trail: A bit longer but still manageable for families, this 5.5-mile round-trip trail features a breathtaking 80-foot waterfall. The trail is mostly uphill, but the stunning views make it worth the effort.
- Kephart Prong Trail: For a longer and more challenging hike, try the Kephart Prong Trail. This 8-mile round-trip trail offers panoramic views of the Smokies. Along the way, you'll pass cascading waterfalls and lush forests.

Splash and Play in Waterparks

When the summer heat strikes, there's nothing more refreshing than a dip in a cool waterpark. The Smokies are home to several family-friendly waterparks that offer a range of attractions, from thrilling water slides to lazy rivers.

- Dollywood's Splash Country: Adjacent to the renowned Dollywood theme park, Splash Country boasts over 35 water slides, wave pools, and interactive play areas for kids of all ages.
- Wildwater Rafting: Located in Townsend, Wildwater Rafting offers a mix of water slides, a wave pool, and a lazy river. The park is particularly popular for its thrilling whitewater rafting experiences.
- Soaky Mountain Waterpark: In the heart of Sevierville, Soaky Mountain Waterpark features a variety of water slides, a lazy river, and a toddler play area for younger guests.

Unleash Your Adventure Spirit

Beyond hiking and waterparks, the Smokies offer a range of adrenaline-pumping activities for families seeking adventure:

- Zip-lining: Soar through the treetops on a thrilling zip-line adventure. Several companies in the area offer guided zip-line tours suitable for kids and adults alike.
- Horseback Riding: Embark on a scenic horseback riding tour through the majestic Smoky Mountain trails. Choose from guided tours or rent horses for a private ride.
- Whitewater Rafting: Experience the thrill of whitewater rafting on the Pigeon River or the Big Pigeon River. Guided rafting tours are available for families with kids as young as 6 years old.

Explore Fascinating Museums

When the weather isn't cooperating or you need a break from outdoor activities, take your family to one of the many educational and entertaining museums in the Smokies:

- Ripley's Aquarium of the Smokies: Discover a vast array of marine life, including sharks, penguins, and stingrays. The aquarium offers interactive exhibits and educational programs for kids.
- Hollywood Star Cars Museum: Gearheads and movie buffs will love exploring this collection of iconic cars featured in Hollywood films and TV shows.
- Titanic Museum Attraction: Step back in time and experience the grandeur and tragedy of the Titanic. The museum features authentic artifacts and recreations.

With so much to offer families, the Smoky Mountains are the perfect destination for an unforgettable vacation. Our comprehensive guidebook, "Things To Do In The Smokies With Kids," provides all the information you need to plan your trip and make the most of your time in this enchanting mountain paradise.
